ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Brokaw, respectively the Director and the Managing Editor of Princeton University Press. My gratitude to my wife is beyond all reckoning.

The Research Committee of Princeton University deserves my gratitude for the award of two grants which made it possible to spend two summers in English libraries. The Trustees of the John S. Guggenheim Memorial Foundation of New York by the award of two Fellowships have accelerated the progress towards the completion of this five-volume project. I am greatly cheered by their encouragement as I press on to complete the two final volumes, I and II.

To all these persons and institutions I express my deep gratitude.
